

Joint Anomalies Committee Report: 2013-2014

The Joint Anomalies Committee meets each year to consider applications received by the deadline date for submissions from faculty members or their respective academic deans/professors. For 2014, this date was set as May 30, 2014. Each applicant was informed of the committee's decision in their particular case by August 15, 2014.

At the time applications were received, the total amount available in the Anomalies Fund for 2013-2014 was $24,700.

At the time awards were granted, the total amount available in the Anomalies Fund for 2013-2014 was $21,500.

The total awarded from the Anomalies Fund for 2013-2014 was $21,500. It should be noted that salary (with anomalies award) cannot exceed the salary maximum for the member's rank. Tables 1 and 2 provide award breakdowns by gender and faculty.

The total awarded from the Anomalies Fund for 2013-2014 was $21,500. It should be noted that salary (with anomalies award) cannot exceed the salary maximum for the member's rank. Tables 1 and 2 provide award breakdowns by gender and faculty.

The total awarded from the Anomalies Fund for 2013-2014 was $21,500. It should be noted that salary (with anomalies award) cannot exceed the salary maximum for the member's rank. Tables 1 and 2 provide award breakdowns by gender and faculty.

Table 1 Award distribution by gender.

Gender	Number of Applications	Number of Awards	Total Awarded	Average Award
Female	2	2	$7000	$3500
Male	7	5	$14,500	$2900

Table 2 Award distribution by Faculty

Faculty	Number of Applications	Number of Awards
Engineering	2	2
Health Professions	2	2
Management	1	0
Medicine	2	2
Science	2	1

Table 3 Award distribution by amount.

Amount	$5000	$4500	$2500	$2000	$1000
Number of Awards	1	2	1	2	1

Dr. Carolyn Watters, Board Representative